Dr. Hannah Roberts, NCTM, serves as Assistant Professor of Piano at the University of Alabama, where she teaches piano and piano pedagogy. As a competition prizewinner, her playing has earned her opportunities to perform throughout the United States and abroad at the Schloß Esterhazy in Eisenstadt, Austria. In addition to performing, she maintains an active profile as a clinician, pedagogue, and researcher. Her current research focuses on the promoting the works of forgotten female composers, with particular emphasis on the music of Helen Hopekirk. She was named recipient of the 2023 Edward T. Cone Fellowship from the Society for American Music for her research on Hopekirk, and her articles on female composers have been published in American Music Teacher, Piano Magazine, and MTNA e-Journal. She has also been invited to share her work nationally at the MTNA, CMS, NCKP, and GP3 conferences, as well as through video publications for the Frances Clark Center for Keyboard Pedagogy's From the Artist Bench and Inspiring Artistry series. She holds a Doctor of Musical Arts degree in Piano Performance and Pedagogy from the University of Oklahoma.
